

Jason – Engineering Manager

Jason is the technical backbone of our engineering operations. As Engineering Manager, he is responsible for maintaining, organizing, and archiving customer technical files. He provides crucial design support for both external factories and international clients, handles Engineering Questions (EQs) related to order designs, and offers expert technical advice during the quoting process. Jason's precision and technical insight ensure our clients' projects move forward efficiently and successfully.